DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract does not sufficiently describe the claimed invention. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
2. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: --A MANUFACTURING METHOD OF A THIN FILM MAGNETIC HEAD--.

Claim Objections

4. Claims 2 and 3 are objected to because of the following informalities: The limitation "a thin film magnetic head" in lines 1-2 should be changed to –said thin film magnetic head--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Re. Claim 1: The limitation "the gap depth" in line 11 lacks antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

8. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shouji et al. (US PAT. 6,033,580).

Shouji et al. teach a method of making a thin film magnetic head comprising steps of: providing an upper magnetic core (17a) as shown in Fig. 7A and 7B; covering an end portion of the upper magnetic core with a non-magnetic protective film (23) as shown in Fig. 8A and 8B; removing the non-magnetic protective film from an upper part until the upper magnetic core is exposed as shown in Fig. 9A and 9B; and wherein a front end of a connection area in which the end portion is connected a rear portion (19) of the upper magnetic core as shown in Fig. 11B is located between a face opposed to a medium and a position defining a gap depth as shown in Fig. 17 (col. 3, line 62 to col. 5, line 44).

As per claim 2 Shouji et al. teach that the non-magnetic protective film is removed by polishing process (col. 5, lines 23-26).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shouji et al. in view of Hira et al. (US PAT. 5,567,333).

Shouji et al. teach all of the limitations as set forth above except a process of removing of the non-magnetic protective film by gas etching. Hira et al. teach a process of producing a thin film magnetic head including a gas etching process to remove a material such as a photoresist. The gas of CF<sub>4</sub> or Ar is used for the gas etching (col. 7, lines 3-43). Therefore, it would also have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to modify a process of removing of the non-magnetic protective film of Shouji et al. by a gas etching process as taught by Hira et al. for the purpose of obtaining accuracy improvement of a uniform top surface of the magnetic head.
